We are satisfied:

a) that there are no reasonable grounds for believing that there was any contravention of a requirement imposed by or under any enactment in relation to the ballot

b) that the arrangements made with respect to the following matters, so far as relevant, included all such security arrangements as were reasonably practicable for the purpose of minimising the risk that any unfairness or malpractice might occur— (i) the production, storage, distribution, return or other handling of the voting papers used in the ballot; (ii) the production, distribution and storage of voting access methods and the maintenance of the electronic voting system; (iii) the counting of the votes

c) that we have been able to carry out the functions conferred on us under section 226B(1) without any interference from the trade union or any of its members, officials or employees.

No changes were made to permissions to access and edit the electronic voting system during the ballot.

We would draw your attention to subsection 231B (2) which requires that, for a six month period starting from the date of the ballot, a copy of this report be made available, on request, to any person who was entitled to vote in the ballot and the employer of any such person. A reasonable fee may be charged for this service.
